

Military Spouse Employment Partnership Communication Channels

The Military Spouse Employment Partnership includes industry-leading organizations with a sound business history that embrace multiple work environments, maximize results and retain a skilled workforce. They are a committed group of employers seeking diverse talent with global perspectives — qualifications found in military spouses.

Social media engagement

You can provide information on immediate hiring needs for release as a “hot job” on Spouse Education and Career Opportunities social media sites. You can also provide content on hiring goals, hiring fair participation or corporate military-centric programs for distribution on SECO sites to increase awareness of your company’s support of military spouses. Don’t forget to sign up and be active on the sites — if you see a spouse question on Facebook, jump in and join the conversation. Finally, make sure your company is a friend or follower of the SECO sites.
